

THE VOLUNTEER CENTER BOARD CONNECTIONS

LIVE UNITED

Interested in volunteering on a board or advisory council for a local nonprofit? The Volunteer Center's Board Connections program can help.

Most nonprofit agencies rely on volunteers to govern and steer their organization. These volunteers serve on their board of directors, advisory groups or other committees.

We can match your areas of interest with agencies that need leadership volunteers. You'll have the opportunity to meet with agencies and hear about their needs and expectations. We'll work with you until you find just the right volunteer opportunity.

The Board Connections process is simple:

- Complete a short volunteer profile form that provides us with information about your skills and interests.
- We contact our network of agencies to find out which have openings.
- We provide you with a list of nonprofit agencies that fall within your areas of interest and you select those you are most interested in pursuing.
- We have the agencies you've selected contact you to provide specific information about their programs, services and expectations.
- You decide where you'd like to volunteer.

Board Connections is a referral service. That means that you are under no obligation at any time to volunteer for an agency unless you feel it's the right match for you. It's that simple!

To begin finding your volunteer opportunity, e-mail The Volunteer Center today to receive a profile form!
